HENRY HYDE

Henry Hyde is a Congressman from the Sixth district. One day we went in his office to possibly arrange an interview with him. After receiving a bunch of papers and booklets, we finally got an interview.

While waiting in the office, sitting in big blue lounge chairs a red-orange car drove up with a sign on top saying "Hyde" in big bold letters. He came in and sat down and the interview began. The first thing we stated was that all questions are original except the first one which was asked by another person. The question was "what is your stand on double dipping". Double dipping is when a person holds two jobs at the same time. He said it's generally bad but exceptions can be made.

He was in the state legislator, for 8 years and was ready to retire while at the same time the old Congressman was, also. He decided it would be a good change so he became the new Congressman. Before he was a Congressman, he was an attorney and that's what he would be if he wasn't in government and he doesn't plan to run for President.

When we asked if he had a family he replied that he had a wife and 4 children. He also informed us that he just became a grandfather on Sunday, October 10, 1976.

His favorite movie stars are Gregory Peck, Lawrence Olivia and his favorite is John Wayne. His favorite singers are Tony Benett, Nancy Wilson, and Bobby Darin.

If you had a chance to live in any other country what would it be? Hyde chose England.

What is your favorite lifesaver flavor? Hyde likes orange and lime what is yours?
